SWIMMING
Edward Burdick
REMEMBERING how as strangers one first day
We came to you and went away as friend
Charmed by the quaintness of your words, a way
You have of saying little things that mends
The sameness of a language; how your mind
Was swift to know and keep, and kind to bring
Its knowledge; how your humanness defined
The little girl you name, remembering—

Remembering how you found a high delight
In antique tongue and classic theme and phrase:
How simple lessons helped us toward your height,
We dedicate these pages and our praise.
This is the truth you made that makes us wise:
Much was to cherish, much remains to prize.

—CHARLOTTE ROOT.
Familiarly it beckoned. Winter's change
Produced the mystic vine that made it strange.
MERVIN EVERETT

National Honor Society

The HIGHEST possible honor that can be conferred on deserving high school students was bestowed on the group shown above. These leading students of the 1931 senior class of Central High school were elected to the National Honor Society. Not alone excellence in scholarship throughout their four years of high school was sufficient to qualify them for this greatest senior honor. There are also four important character qualities on which the students are judged. These are excellence in scholarship, ability in cooperation, prominence in activities, and high standards of character.

A nation-wide honor organization with over 700 chapters, the National Honor Society is to the high school what Phi Beta Kappa is to the college. Central’s pride in the organization is the greater because of the fact that Principal J. G. Masters suggested the founding of the organization in the year 1921.

Mr. Walter L. Pierpoint, president of the Board of Education, announced the members for this year at a mass meeting held on April 23 at the Orpheum theatre. A faculty committee head by Mr. Masters selected from the upper quartile of the graduating senior class those students whom they deemed most worthy of this honor.

Because these, her honor students, possess the qualities which are so necessary for success in later life, Central feels confident that they will become a credit to the high school, and they will become leaders in their chosen vocations.

Junior Honor Society

ELECTION to the Junior Honor Society is the highest goal toward which underclassmen of Central High school may strive. Scholarship, leadership, service to the school, and character are all taken into consideration in the choice of members.

Founded by Principal J. G. Master in 1923, the organization strives to recognize originality and high achievement in general and in departmental work, to increase the student's opportunities, to encourage leadership in school activities, and to develop character.

Ten per cent of each class may be elected to membership in the three chapters, the Epsilon for freshmen, the Delta for sophomores, and the Gamma for juniors. A faculty committee, composed of the general council of five teachers who sponsor the society, the class sponsors, and three members-at-large, makes the selection.

In the freshman year, scholarship and character are the only requisites for membership, but in the sophomore and junior years, leadership and service to the school are also taken into consideration. To become a member in any of the chapters a student must receive two A's and no grade lower than B. If he is carrying five subjects he is permitted to have one C.

Officers of the society are elected in the spring of each year. The president for this year, chosen from the Gamma chapter, was Dan Ramsey; the vice-president, from the Epsilon chapter, Ted Baird; and the secretary-treasurer, from the Delta chapter, Edwin Sunderland.
Debate

WITH ONLY two lettermen returning last fall and with most of the members in their sophomore and junior years, Central debaters worked against heavy odds in gaining the recognition which they have won during the past season.

In the Midland College tournament held annually at Fremont, in which teams from all over the state are entered, Central reached the semi-finals by defeating other state teams. Although they were eliminated in the semi-finals, Central debaters were the last Omaha team to be eliminated from the tournament. Central's representatives in the Midland tournament were Ben Shrier '33, David Saxe '33, Dan Wagstaffe '32, and Ermagrace Reilly '33.

Better progress was made by the debaters in the city tournament. After they had defeated Creighton twice and won one victory over South, they were defeated in the finals by Tech, their traditional rival. Central representatives in the city tournament were Ben Shrier, David Saxe, Dan Wagstaffe, Dick Anderson, and Harvey Leon. The subjects debated this season were Chain Stores and Disarmament.

According to Miss Sarah Ryan, debate coach, who has done splendid work in debate at Central, and who has produced many champion teams in the past, this has been an off year for the debaters. However, with the excellent training this year's debaters have had, and with most of them returning next year, we may look forward to a champion team in 1932.
Quill and Scroll

FOURTY-TWO members of the Central High Register staff, the largest group for a number of years, were elected to the Alpha chapter of Quill and Scroll, international honor society for high school journalists, this spring. Twenty-three members of the first semester staff, and nineteen second semester staff members were admitted into the society in the elections announced by Mrs. Anne Lane Savidge, journalism instructor, in April.

There are four requirements that all candidates must have fulfilled in order to be elected to this society. They are: first, to have done outstanding work in journalism; second, to rank in the upper third of the class; third, to have received the recommendation of the journalism instructor; and fourth, to have received the approval of the international secretary-treasurer of the organization, Dr. George H. Gallup.

Quill and Scroll was founded by a group of teachers at the University of Iowa in 1926 for the purpose of advancing the standards of the profession of journalism by developing better journalists and by instilling a higher code of ethics in these journalists at the beginning of their training.

There are now over six hundred active chapters of the society in the United States and England. Over 12,000 students make up the total membership of these chapters.

Quill and Scroll society publishes a magazine, Quill and Scroll, which contains articles of interest to its members. A copy of this journal is sent to each member of the organization.

FULFILLING a long-cherished dream of Mrs. Carol Marhoff Pitts, head of Central's music department, the a cappella choir, an organization composed of seventy-five boys and girls, was formed this year. The members, chosen from the Senior Glee Clubs, have in most cases had two or three years' training in the music department and are capable of singing the highest type of choral music. It is Mrs. Pitts' hope that membership in this choir will be a goal toward which the members of the Senior Glee clubs may work and strive.

In recognition of their work, fifty of the choir member were invited to sing at the Southwest Music Supervisors' conference in Colorado Springs, March 27. Members of the a cappella choir were also honored by being asked to take part in the North Central Music Supervisors' conference held in Des Moines in April.

In another branch of the music department, the instrumental, a Central student has won recognition. Margaret Bess Bedell placed first in the flute division of the M.I.N.K. contest held at the Peru State Teachers college, Peru, Nebraska.

Besides taking part in these activities, the music department produces the opera in December, gives concerts in the spring, and participates in the Nebraska State Music contest at Lincoln. Central is justly proud of her musical attainments and is hoping for continuation of the fine work.
Orchestra

No organization contributes more to the life of a high school than its orchestra, which is called upon to serve all other groups. Under the able direction of Henry G. Cox, and with a membership of fifty-five, the orchestra has experienced a happy season of success. Mr. Cox has conducted Central's orchestras for the past fourteen years.

During each of the past several years, members of the orchestra have contributed special acts to the Road Shows: a charming act, "Three Exquisite Classics," was given for this year's Road Show by the flutists, Margaret Bedell, Mary Roberts, and Agneta Jensen. Beulah Kay, a member of the first violin division, was guest soloist of the Omaha Symphony orchestra at one of their performances this season.

In the district music contest James Peterson '32 took first place in the violin awards, while Margaret Bedell '32 won first place in the flute contest. The flute trio won first in the wood-wind ensembles.

The officers of the orchestra are usually selected from the senior members.

This year Dorothy Davis has served as president and concert master, and Anne Tretiak has been secretary.

The work of the orchestra is sight-reading and analytical study of fine musical literature. The feminine members of the orchestra this year are as follows: Helen Amos, Frances Antrim, Ruth Baysdorfer, Margaret Bedell, Dorothy Davis, Ruth Davis, Betty Fellman, Shirley Fiedler, Alice Barbara Giermann, June Goethe, Frances Gordon, Mary Hassert, Agneta Jensen, Beulah Kay, Evelyn Neher, Elizabeth Phillips, Ellen Jane Phillips, Mary Roberts, Margaret Saxton, Anne Tretiak, and Edrose Willis.

Color Guard
Omaha High School Cadet Regiment

The regiment under the kind and efficient command of Lieutenant-Colonel Stephen P. Dorsey and Commandant F. H. Gulgard has had a very successful winter and spring and expects to have an equally fine camp under their direction in June.

Both have shown themselves to be fair and excellent commanders. Commandant Gulgard is now in his twelfth consecutive year in that position. Although Stephen has served only his senior year as the regimental commander, pleasant memories of his leadership will remain.

HERE COMES the band! Every spectator leans forward in anticipation, for everyone is thrilled when hearing a good band during a regimental or on parade. The band of Central High School, composed of forty members, has many activities, such as playing for school mass meetings, football games, basketball games, regimentals, and civic parades. This year’s organization, officered by Lowell Haas, Robert S. Brown, Tom Organ, Jack Epstein, and Carleton Goodlett, aided by First Sergeant Dallas Leitch, has done its part as bands of former years have.

Events of 1930-1931 that will long be remembered are the trip to Council Bluffs on a chartered street car to play for the Central-Abraham Lincoln football game; a concert at the court house for a naturalization meeting; any one of the five basketball games at which they played, particularly the games in which Central vanquished Tech; marching in the “Know Omaha,” Police Inspection, and Omaha Air Race parades; Band banquet, May 28, and last but not least, the cadet encampment.

The band for years has been aided by the combined efforts of Commandant F. H. Gulgard and Mr. Henry Cox. The inspection banner, won for six consecutive years by the band, was lost last year, but this year the banner may be regained by the musicians.
Football

WITH a light, shifty team the Central pigskin luggers came through the 1930 season with a record of four victories and four defeats. At the beginning of the year the prospects for a winning team were mediocre as the team had to be built around four lettermen, one lineman and three backfieldmen.

In the first two games of the year the Eagles were victorious over Fremont and North by scores of 13 to 7 and 14 to 6, respectively. In each game the Purples were rated as the underdog but showed a spirit that was unbeatable.

Judged by their previous victories, the Purples were favored to win from South but finished on the short end of a 19 to 0 score. The spirit that the team had shown in the first two games was lacking, and they also dropped the following game with Lincoln.

Snapping out of their slump, the Eagles won their next two games. The strong Falls City aggregation fell before the Centralites, 6 to 0, and the next victim was Abraham Lincoln, succumbing 12 to 6.

Playing their last home game of the year, the Knapplemen lost a close game to their ancient rivals, the Maroons. Holding the heavy Tech team scoreless the first half, the light Central team weakened in the third quarter, and Tech scored a touchdown. The other Maroon score came in the dying moments of the game. In the final game of the season the Eagles journeyed to St. Joe, only to lose, 19 to 0.
BUILDING the 1930-31 basketball quintet around five returning lettermen, Mr. F. Y. Knapp coached the Central High team through a hard schedule, winning nine out of nineteen games. Everett, McFarland, Carlsen, Emmert, and Brown were the five veterans, while Howell was added to the roster of regulars after Everett's graduation.

After defeating Harland and Oakland and losing to West Point during Christmas vacation, the Purple team returned to Omaha to conquer Creighton, South, and Abe Lincoln in quick succession. The Eagles showed the finest brand of basketball in these three contests that they exhibited all season. The defeat by Council Bluffs was the only setback they suffered during the entire regular season.

Coach Knapp's pupils lost an 8 to 11 decision to Tech, but in a second tiff Central gave Tech a sound trouncing of 18 to 14. The Purples dropped two close decisions to North but took two decisive victories from the strong Lincoln team.

In return engagements Abe Lincoln defeated Central, as did Creighton. St. Joe Central handed Omaha two more setbacks, 32 to 12 and 28 to 15. The Eagles came back to their own and scored a knock-out at the expense of the South Packers by a score of 37 to 8. The last two games were with the city champion Benson Bunnies. The suburbanites won both games after a hard struggle by the scores of 25 to 15 and 27 to 18.
Swimming

With Eleven returning lettermen, Coach Burdick's Central High men had a successful season, winning six out of their eight dual meets and being runner-up in both the city and state meets.

The first meet of the season was with Creighton. The Prepsters were overwhelmed to the tune of 78 to 15, and in a later meet the Eagles were again victorious by a score of 55 to 29. Next on the program came South and Lincoln, and both of these teams were vanquished by relatively large scores. Tech gave the Purple ducks their first taste of defeat by edging out a close win, 54 to 39.

In the city meet Central gave the city champion Technical High aggregation a scare, but the Maroons' well-balanced team won by the narrow margin of 59 to the Centralites' 51. The Purple natators then took their next two meets from Lincoln and South but lost to Tech. In the state meet Tech won with a total of 56 points, Central was second with 43, and Lincoln was third with 25.

Loss of such men as Kelly, city and state champion in the 50-yard free style, Epstein, city and state record-holder in the plunge, Burdick, Gordon, Rutter, Anderson, Race, and Clark will work a hardship on the hopes of next year's team; however, there will be plenty of veteran material next year, including Swanson, Lima, Ralya, Rimerman, D. Buell, B. Buell, Reavis, and Adams.

MORE than usual interest was shown in basketball this season, due largely to the fact that two court basketball was played, thus opening a larger field for team work.

A highly contested inter-class tournament, consisting of a round robin of five games was played off after nearly four weeks of hard practice and competition in choosing the teams.

The tournament started off with the juniors, captained by Virginia Boucher and the seniors captained by Mary Brown winning over the two underclass teams. In the following two rounds of games the sophomores were eliminated from the contest, and the juniors suffered one defeat, dropping them to third place. In the fourth game of the tournament the struggling juniors were eliminated from the fray leaving the seniors and freshmen contesting for highest place.

Victors in the final game were the ever-dominant seniors with the freshmen as the runners-up. Margaret Saxton, June Holst, Virginia Boucher, and Mary Brown were captains of the freshman, sophomore, junior, and senior teams respectively. It is very seldom that a freshman team places in the tournament so great things can be expected of them in future years.

As a culmination of the basketball season, Central girls were hostesses to girls from other Omaha high schools at a basketball play day held in March. This is the first year that a basketball play day has been held, but with this year's success, play days in all girls' athletics will probably become annual affairs.
Swimming

ALTHOUGH swimming has always been a popular sport among girls at Central, this year it has been made even more attractive by the offering of a cup and two plaques for those doing outstanding work. A "Marathon Contest," and an "Achievement Test" activity constituted the basis for determining the winners.

The girl swimming the most number of miles in the marathon contest, and passing the greatest number of achievement tests, consisting of speed swimming, stunts in the water, and low and high board diving, received a silver loving cup, and the two girls with the second best record received a plaque.

Two years ago when swimming was first offered for girls at Central a charge was made for instruction, but this year swimming for girls has been placed upon an equal basis with other subjects.

Excellent individual work has been done during the year in Life Saving. A great many girls received Junior Life Saving emblems, and several of the older girls received Senior Life Saving emblems.

Girls also cooperated with boys in presenting a swimming pageant, "Pool of Promise," in December. Relay races, medleys, under-swimming, and high and low board diving were worked out in the pageant through which ran a story linking it together. The pageant was well attended by the student body as well as by the general public, which showed the interest outsiders have in the grandest of sports, swimming.

Organizations

THE PRIMARY purpose of many of the clubs is to inspire interest in the subjects of which the rudiment are covered in the classroom. With semi-official character, they naturally allow a freer range of activities than could be permitted in the classroom, and so lend to what might otherwise be dull and uninteresting subjects, a glimpse into the possibilities which the basic work of the class opens up.

Not all of the clubs come in this category. A number are designed in a large part to exercise the students’ energies in purposes not directly connected with the class work, in activities which are useful for their experience and for the help they give in aiding the functions of the school.

MATHEMATICS SOCIETY
Nathaniel Hollister
Kenny Smith

The Mathematics Society, sponsored by Miss Amanda Anderson, supplemented its usual programs and construction of projects by lectures from outside technical speakers, and also by a trip through the Union Pacific shops and laboratory. The club’s social activities opened with a Halloween party at the Hollister home, and were climaxed by the annual spring banquet.

LATIN CLUB
Robert E. Johnson
Faye Goldware

This year the Latin Club is noted for its Loquax, a spicy newspaper printed in English and Latin and sold throughout the whole school. Other highlights were the presentation of a marionette show, The Three Bears, in Latin, and the purchase of a group of slides depicting the school life and games of early Roman children. The club sponsors are Mrs. Bessie Rathbun and Mrs. Bernice Engle.

STAMP CLUB
Willard Dergan
Howard Lee

The Stamp Club provides an opportunity for collectors to discuss their hobby and to round out their collections by purchasing stamps at the club auctions. This year the members have started an album to be placed in Central’s library when completed. This will be filled with members’ duplicate stamps and donations from outsiders. Miss Helen Scott and Miss Mary Parker sponsor the organization.
STUDENT ASSOCIATION
Dan Ramsey

Its membership including most of the students, Student Association sponsors all major activities, reaching its zenith in athletic mass meetings, where all get an opportunity of splitting their lungs for Alma Mater.

STUDENT CONTROL
Raymond Young

Student Control, sponsored by Mrs. Irene Jensen, patrols Central's halls and lunch lines, and assists in library registration. It has been host to members of the Federation of Student Councils this year.

CENTRAL COMMITTEE
Calvert Lindquest

Besides attending to study hall ink, the trophy case and the dandelion dig, Central Committee has taken upon itself the task of supplying forgetful history students with crayons and glue for maps. Miss Juliette Griffin and Mrs. Anna Haynes are sponsors.

MONITORS' COUNCIL
Jack Crawford

Monitors' Council is an important unit in self-government in the library. It considers library regulations and acts as a court for cases of continued library misdeemans. Miss Zora Shields, chief librarian, is sponsor.

CENTRAL COLLEENS
Catherine Cox

Central Colleens have just completed an unusually active year. In addition to acting as big sisters to bewildered freshmen, they have provided for poor families at Christmas, and have served teas for teachers.

BOOSTERS' CLUB
Virginia Lee Long

Though only organized this year, the Boosters' Club has already rendered an important service by erecting a marker for the Oregon Trail between Omaha and Fremont. Miss Geneve Clark sponsors the group.

SPEAKERS' BUREAU
James Harris

Speakers' Bureau has played a very important part in Central's life this year. Due to the depression it has had to push its drives strenuously in order to insure success for the school's campaigns and ticket sales. Miss Myrna Jones is club sponsor.

FORENSIC SOCIETY
David Saxe

By presenting movies, the Debate Club, sponsored by Miss Sarah Ryan, raises money to finance partially the trips of Central's debate team. The club also attends debates, and makes arrangements for outside debates.

GIRLS' NATURAL SCIENCE CLUB
Ermagrace Reilly

The Girls' Natural Science Club, organized by Miss Caroline Stringer, arranges programs concerning plants, birds and insects. The club thus promotes among students a greater interest in natural life.

BIOLOGY ROUND TABLE
Dick Anderson

The Biology Round Table is the club in which would-be scientists spend delightful hours comparing the true inwardsness of polywogs and mud puppies, and discoursing learnedly on abstruse biological subjects. Miss Stringer is adviser.
TITANS
Carol Love

Central's Titian's, with their red hair and green smocks, are a picturesque sight at most of our school performances, for they usually do the ushering at all the box affairs. They are sponsored by Mrs. Irene Jensen.

FRENCH CLUBS
Elizabeth Hayward
Fred Kerr

Le Cercle Francais, sponsored by Miss Pearl Rockfellow, Miss Bess Bozell, Miss Ella Phelps, and Madame Barbara Chateauneuf, and the Gentlemen's French Club, sponsored by Miss Bozell, have the same functions although they are separate organizations. Among their outstanding activities this year have been joint subscription to the famous Illustration, a French magazine, a lecture given in French by Dr. F. J. Despecher, and presentation of a French play by each club.

LOS SABIOS
Raymond Elliott

Los Sabios, sponsored by Mrs. Margarita Vartanian, is composed of students who wish to increase their knowledge of Spanish. They accomplish this by presenting Spanish programs and having outside speakers.

GREENWICH VILLAGEGERS
Ruth Miller

This year this club of artists, sponsored by Miss Mary Angood, staged a contest in which all its senior members partook, entering from one to three examples of their work. A committee of outsiders judged, and prizes were awarded.

LININGER TRAVEL CLUB
Marion Smith

Lininger Travel Club was formed to promote interest in travel and literature. At each meeting a speaker lectures on a foreign country. Miss Elsie Fisher, Miss Margaret Mueller, and Miss Mary Parker are sponsors.

DER DEUTSCHEN VEREIN
Jack Epstein

The German club, sponsored by Miss Marie Schmidt, was formed to stimulate interest in German customs and language. By conversing as much as possible in German and by presenting German programs, the members receive a better understanding of the language.

CENTRAL HIGH PLAYERS
Richard Stockham

Central High Players, sponsored by Miss Myrna Jones, Miss Katherine Gallagher and Miss Doris Hosman, gives two plays a year, usually at mass meetings. This year they received an invitation to join the National Thespians, an honor society in dramatics.

GYM CLUB
Mary Rigg

The Gym Club, one of Central's oldest clubs, is organized for social purposes. It has sponsored several bikes, and has managed a concession at football games. Mrs. Glee Case is its adviser.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION
Dorothy Porter

The Girls' Athletic Association is organized throughout Nebraska. The members earn points by entering various fields of athletics, and work for the four awards offered. Mrs. Case sponsors the Central High division.
